

Whistleblower Policy

Purpose

November First A/S (“N1”) aims to have an open and healthy company culture and is committed to conducting business with integrity, securing our customers, partners, colleagues and society. N1 encourages sharing concerns of any potential breach of laws or regulations applicable to N1, as well as N1 internal policies and procedures.

The purpose of this Whistleblower Policy is to secure a special, independent channel that increases the opportunity to report on violations, criminal or critical matters and to discover mistakes and negligence. N1’s Whistleblower Policy encourages and protects employees who speak up when they encounter behaviour that is unethical, illegal or goes against N1 values. This includes e.g.:

- Accounting, internal accounting controls or auditing matters
- Money laundering or terrorist financing
- Market abuse
- Insider trading
- Breaching customer confidentiality or privacy
- Theft
- Bribery or corruption
- Discrimination, violence, assault and harassment
- Violations of any other laws, regulations or N1 policies

The Whistleblower scheme (the “N1 Whistle Portal”) is a supplement to the direct and daily communication in N1 and secures the option of remaining completely anonymous. Employees can use the Whistle Portal to raise their concerns without fear of reprisal.

Employees are always encouraged to share the concerns with their direct manager, management, colleagues and Compliance. However, in situations where an employee may not feel comfortable in sharing their concerns, the Whistleblower scheme is to support N1 in such situations by providing a secure channel where employees can report on violations or negligence, as well as serious and sensitive matters anonymously, if needed.

The Whistleblower Policy also serves to set out principles and standards for managing Whistle Reports, as well as roles and responsibilities. The Whistle Portal alerts management to allegations of crime or other suspected misconduct and helps ensure appropriate and adequate action is taken to address the situation.

N1 take the utmost care to protect the identity of whistleblowers and the confidentiality of a Whistle report.

The Policy applies to all N1 employees (former and current), BoD members and external partners, customers and individuals associated with N1.

Sensitive information on an individual, such as racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, trade union membership, and data concerning health or sex life not relevant for the Whistle Report should be avoided. However, this information should be documented if any of the following exceptions apply: 1. It is relevant to the Whistle Report; and/or 2. Consent was given by the individual to include this information (which is given in the questionnaire's step 5).

Protection of the employees

Employees who submit Whistle Reports must not be subjected to unfavourable treatment or be disadvantaged due to their concerns. Protection covers all forms of repatriation, discrimination, and other unfair treatment. The protection of employees applies to information provided in "good faith". That is, an employee must not knowingly submit false or misleading information.

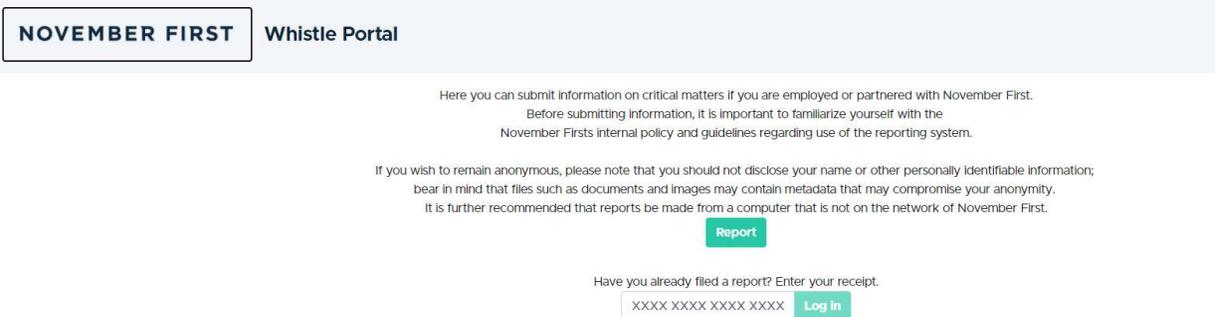

If a whistleblowing concern is reported deliberately in bad faith, this may result in disciplinary action and the individual will not be protected by the Whistleblower scheme.

Confidentiality and anonymity

All information submitted via the N1 Whistle Portal is treated with confidentiality and discretion. The Whistle Portal is designed to remove or limit the storing of information when visiting the site and when using the portal to secure the anonymity. Additional security measures are taken to ensure the protection of the confidential data stored in the Whistle Portal.

If an individual wishes to remain completely anonymous, it is essential to be aware of the questionnaire's 3rd and 4th step, as seen in the following.

When accessing <https://novemberfirst.whistleportal.net> below introduction will appear:

The screenshot shows the top of the Whistle Portal. On the left, there is a logo for 'NOVEMBER FIRST' and the text 'Whistle Portal'. The main content area contains the following text: 'Here you can submit information on critical matters if you are employed or partnered with November First. Before submitting information, it is important to familiarize yourself with the November Firsts internal policy and guidelines regarding use of the reporting system. If you wish to remain anonymous, please note that you should not disclose your name or other personally identifiable information; bear in mind that files such as documents and images may contain metadata that may compromise your anonymity. It is further recommended that reports be made from a computer that is not on the network of November First.' Below this text is a green 'Report' button. At the bottom, there is a question 'Have you already filed a report? Enter your receipt.' followed by a text input field containing 'XXXX XXXX XXXX XXXX' and a green 'Log In' button.

To initiate a report, press 'Report', and the following steps will appear:

Step 3. Attachments:

In the 3rd step where documentation etc. can be attached, it is important to be aware to remove metadata and/or not to disclose any documents that can provide information about the whistleblowers identity.

The screenshot shows the 'NOVEMBER FIRST Whistle Portal' interface. At the top right, there is a language dropdown menu set to 'English'. Below the header is a progress bar with five steps: 1. Description, 2. Additional information, 3. Attachments (highlighted in blue), 4. Contact information (optional), and 5. Report. Below the progress bar, a warning message states: 'If you wish to maintain your anonymity, please be aware that when uploading files, including documents, movies, photos, etc. will inadvertently provide information about your identity.' This is followed by the heading 'Attach documentation' with a help icon. Below this is a file upload area with an 'Upload' button and the text 'Select a file or drag it here.'

Step 4. Contact information (optional):

In the 4th step, it is important to not fill in the contact information form, if the whistleblower wishes to remain fully anonymous.

If information is being submitted from N1's network, there can be a risk of the individual being logged as part of the ordinary logging of user activities. To avoid this risk, N1 encourages to submit on a private or public device that is not associated with N1's network.

The screenshot shows the 'NOVEMBER FIRST Whistle Portal' interface. The progress bar now has step 4, 'Contact information (optional)', highlighted in blue. Below the progress bar, the heading 'Full anonymity (If you want full anonymity, do not fill out the form below)' is followed by a checkbox labeled 'I want to remain anonymous'.

Case procedure

Submitted reports are accessed by trusted employees at BDO, who receives, register and process the reports.

The reports are forwarded to N1's CFO. If N1's CFO is considered to be conflicted or partial, the information will instead be forwarded to N1's CEO. If the report concerns the management of N1, the report will be forwarded to the chairman of the board at N1. At the discretion of BDO, the information received may in special cases instead be passed on to N1's N1's lawyer.

In rare cases involving serious crimes, and where the identity is known due to the individual actively choosing to disclose his or hers personal information in step 4, identity information might be passed on to authorities to be used for case management purposes.

A preliminary examination of the report will be made by BDO to assess whether the report is within the scope of the Whistleblower scheme, and whether there are grounds for a procedure and further examination, or whether the report is manifestly unfounded (e.g. if the report concerns circumstances that are not within the scope of the Whistleblower Scheme).

If there are grounds for further examination of the report such will be initiated. If necessary, legal or external advisory assistance might be involved.

Involved person(s)

Unless specific and legitimate reasons due to considerations of public interest, including state security and prevention, investigation, disclosure or prosecution in criminal cases prevents it, the involved person(s) will be informed about the case procedure, when the report is received, and an investigation has been initiated. The other acts of the case are confidential, and implicated persons are never informed about who submitted information on the Whistle Portal.

Receipt

It is possible to remain completely anonymous and follow the case by using the 16-digit code (receipt) that is being shown after a report has been submitted.

This channel can be used to ask additional questions to the individual without disclosing the identity of the individual.

NOVEMBER FIRST

IMPROVING PAYMENTS

Furthermore, the channel can be used to communicate a conclusion to the case, if the individual that has submitted the report is anonymous.

If the individual submitting the report remains anonymous, the following deadlines apply:

- Within 7 days confirmation is given that the report has been received.
- The case will be processed as soon as possible, and it is aimed that the case procedure will not exceed 3 months.
- A conclusion to the case will be available through the anonymous channel.
- As a main rule all reports are deleted from the Whistle Portal within 90 days after they have been submitted, unless the deadline is extended manually by the recipient.
- The individual that has submitted a report has access to the case via the Whistle Portal and the 16-digit code until the case gets deleted in the Whistle Portal. However, the maximum access to view the case will be a year from the day the report was submitted.

Deletion of data

If the report does not fall within the scope of the Whistleblower scheme, or is assessed to be manifestly unfounded, the personal data will be deleted immediately.

Furthermore, personal data are deleted when it is no longer necessary to store the data, including when the case is closed.

Reports will as a main rule be deleted after 90 days in the Whistle Portal, unless the deadline is manually extended by the recipient.

The standard deletion rules apply. If there is a disciplinary action case or sanction due to the information provided, or that other factual grounds speak to the necessity of storing the information on an employee, the information will be stored in the respective employee's HR folder.

Escalation, reporting and follow up

When a Whistle report is submitted, the Escalation Procedure will be activated. The Escalation Procedure contains the requirements for appropriate and timely internal reporting of potentially problematic cases in N1.

Reports are provided to the BoD and Compliance Committee and reports relevant to the Financial Supervisory Authorities on the number of Whistle Reports received, including an analysis of the types of concerns raised in the Whistle Reports.

Case data must be kept complete and current in the appropriate system of record to provide required parties and other parties with the necessary metrics, reporting and analytics, which are applied to support appropriate actions and an overview of Whistle Reports. All reporting information, including information retained for statistical purposes, shall be made anonymous, including the removal of information that may result in indirect identification.
